Today we travel by road using scooters, auto rickshaws, cars, buses, vans, trains. A train can carry many more people than a bus or a van. We travel in the air using aeroplanes and helicopters and on water using ships and boats.

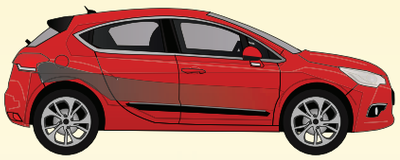

We can travel long distances in a short time using these modes of transport. They need fuel (petrol or diesel) to move.

Scooter

Auto rickshaw

Car

Bus

Van

Aeroplane

Ship

Train

The fire engine and the ambulance are special vehicles. A fire engine helps us to put out fires. An ambulance helps to take sick people to hospital.

Fire engine

Ambulance

